LANDSCAPING

We make the yards happy and their owners too.
SAAN providing overarching landscape solutions.

Green with envy

A well developed outdoor is the main attraction of a home it enriches the beauty and greenery of the home. We co-operate landscape works from the starting of the construction itself. Using cost efficient methods and experienced labours we ensure a well maintained outdoor to our clients. When it comes to landscaping, the options abound. Some people want a perfectly balanced combination of hardscape and softscapes. Some want a sustainable landscape design that saves water and creates natural habitat. While other people want to recreate a certain garden style they find appealing, such as modern or tropical. Still others want a space complete with an outdoor kitchen, fire pit and swimming pool where they can entertain friends and family. Whatever you desire, make sure you communicate this to the professional team of SAAN Associates.

TRUSS WORKS

There is no doubt, SAAN is the most leading builders of trussing systems in the market.

Build better in steel

In these modern architectural era, truss works are unavoidable part . It can make your elevation beautiful and many other benefits. Using high quality GI marked pipes we can ensure more stability to the building. Roof trusses hugely reduce the amount of time spent installing the structural elements of the roof compared to traditional build methods. Design , engineering, safety and total support within the specifications of architects are our main characteristics. Not only the “norm” for simple roof structures but also increasingly the only method of framing to turn a vision into a working roof structure. We give you the previews of the exact outlooks and help you to select the ones which suits your style. In order to provide you the most suitable truss type and highest quality, we are coped up with the major companies on the market.
